Life Stream

Real-Time Recording and Streaming of every procedure

Full Voice Controlled Laboratory Video and Audio communications system, Real-Time Session Recording, Live Real-Time Session streaming, Two Way remote Auditorium Communication

The Life Stream laboratory communication system offers both the highest quality imaging and ease of use. The voice control enables the Consultant to control the complete system during procedures, without the need of additional system controllers.

The high definition camera units provide flexible coverage of the complete procedure and the fully mobile wireless HD camera enables close up images of every angle.

The Real-Time recording function, started with a simple voice command, offers a pause and continue function to select recording times.

The Real-Time streaming function sends the complete screen in 1080p HD to a remote seminar room or auditorium across the network, providing state of the art education facilities.

The communication mode enables two way communication with students or colleagues in other hospitals.

Complete hands-free operation with the voice control function. All functions, window layouts, camera movements controlled with simple voice commands.

Capture multiple medical devices pixel for pixel ensuring the highest quality and integrity is obtained at all times.

Multiple Camera units to capture the procedure at all angles, including a totally wireless HD camera for close up work.

Light weight blue-tooth headset providing high quality vocal audio, reducing the back ground laboratory noise. Multiple headsets to communicate with other lab staff.

A solution for any laboratory of multiple disciplines. High quality AVI recording output for further editing and archive material creation.
